Define Problem Statements (Customer Problem Statement Template):

Create a problem statement to understand your customer's point of view. The Customer Problem Statement template helps you focus on what matters to create experiences people will love. A well-articulated customer problem statement allows you and your team to find the ideal solution for your customers' challenges. Throughout the process, you'll also be able to empathize with your customers, which helps you better understand how they perceive your product or service.

Example:

I am	I'm trying to	But	Because	Which makes me feel
A professional attending networking events and conferences	Start meaningful conversations and build valuable connections	I struggle to think of relevant and personalized conversation starters	I don't know much about the person, their background or shared interests	Nervous and less confident during networking opportunities

Problem Statement	I am (Customer)	I'm trying to	But	Because	Which makes me feel
PS-1	A professional attending networking events	Build meaningful professional connections	I often struggle to start conversations with new people	I do not know enough about common discussion topics or shared interests	Nervous and less confident during networking events
PS-2	A student attending conferences and workshops	Network with industry experts and peers	I find it difficult to identify relevant conversation topics	I lack experience and confidence in professional networking	Anxious and hesitant to engage with others
PS-3	A job seeker participating in career fairs	Create a strong professional impression	I am unsure about how to begin or maintain conversations	Every event has different themes and audiences	Stressed and uncertain about my networking skills
